Sonny -
Best of luck in your second year at school -
Mommy loves you and only wants the best for my children.
Set your goals and work hard to achieve them. The harder you work and play the better the man you mommy will work hard to help you in every thing you undertake as your are in the process of growing. Only hope you will feel free to come to me at any time, during your growing up, if you need me I will try to help you -
Love,
Mommy

... PRESENTS ...

OUR TOWN

As Thornton Wilder depicted Grover's Corners, N. H., in his play "Our Town", the PACEMAKER staff of 1964 wishes to acknowledge, as the theme of our yearbook, "Our Town", Mayville, N. Y.

To the inhabitants of the "Friendly Village", this is known as home. Many are born, raised and laid to rest here and although some may leave, they all come back "home".

Yes, this is Our Town as we know it; Our Town with its shady streets, growing industry and population, and most of all its people who are the backbone of any community.

As we take you on a visit through Mayville, we hope you will enjoy it as much as we do for this is Our Town and these are our people.

"OUR TOWN" — from 12,000 feet

DEDICATION

A knowledge of our forefathers is essential in order that we understand the struggle for freedom that lead to the rights we take for granted today.

And to assure us that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the physical fitness of youth is a prime concern, not only to us, but also to ones who encourage the youngsters and work with them.

A qualified teacher, one who is willing to devote a lifetime to the cause, is one to be praised beyond words.

Mr. Homer Fleming, the Pacemaker Staff of 1964 is deeply honored to have such a person for whom to dedicate its yearbook.

IN MEMORIAM

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

1917 - 1963

"A young man rode with his head held high
Under the Texas sun,
And no one guessed that a man so blessed
Would perish by the gun, Lord,
Would perish by the gun.

The shot rang out like a sudden shout
And heaven held its breath
For the dreams of a multitude of men
Rode with him to his death, Lord,
Rode with him to his death.

Yes, the heart of the world weighs heavy
With the helplessness of tears
For the man cut down in a Texas town
In the summer of his years,
In the summer of his years.

And we who stay must not ever lose
The victories that he won;
For wherever men look to freedom
There his soul goes riding on, Lord,
His soul goes riding on."

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was dead of an assassin's bullet, and the shot rang throughout the world, shocking all that such a tragic incident could happen in a free and democratic nation.

The initial feeling of disbelief was replaced in most hearts by a sense of deep personal loss. It seemed incredible that such a brilliant man could die so suddenly, and deprive the world of a leader upon which it had come to depend to such an extent.

In everything that he did, John Fitzgerald Kennedy reflected the spirit of America. He was the embodiment of his people, presenting an image to the world of a youthful and yet powerful nation, intensely alive and vital. All we can ask is "Why?"

Although he is dead, we must continue with his New Frontier, for his spirit and ideas live on. How could we ever forget such a man? We, the people of America, owe it to ourselves and to John Kennedy, to continue where he left off. This is a legacy to us—one in which we must not and will not fail.

Standing: Harris J. Steward, Theodore Peterson, Curriculum Director and Principal.

Mr. Steward says . . . .

Class of 1964 — A CHALLENGE

1. Thinking is risky — it leads to criticism.
2. Conformity is the weakest link in a democracy.
3. Education and a "Thinking people" from the basic foundation for a democratic way of life.
4. Cherish your right to think — and develop that right.
5. You have the power and may you have the purpose with clear and full definition.

Mr. Petersen says . . . .

TIME

Time passes quickly. There is nothing we can do to prevent this. It should, in passing, lay up a store of good deeds, with kindness and sympathy scattered with a lavish hand. As for you, take time to look—it is a secret of success. Take time to think—it is a source of power. Take time to play—it is the secret of youth. Take time to read—it is the source of wisdom. Take time to be friendly—it is the way to happiness. To sum up—use time wisely.

The Seniors of Our Town have reached a turning point in their lives; they are graduating. They are united as a river, having experienced the rough jolts through the currents, and the steady, endless perpetual flow easily around all obstacles in their path. But now they are at a bend in the river, one where they will all go their separate ways.

It seems only yesterday that they were starting their first day of school; then before we realized it, they entered Junior High and finally High School.

We read their Chatterbox when they were Sophomores and as Juniors saw their shiny new class rings.

But perhaps as we viewed their prom "Drifting and Dreaming", we realized they were no longer children, for it was indeed magnificent.

As a Senior class they experienced the magazine sales, the Halloween Social, the dances and the Spaghetti Dinner, and finally the long awaited Washington Trip.

With the realization of graduation growing near, this is perhaps the last time the Seniors will all be together, so let's have one final look as Our Town proudly presents the Class of 1964.

AUSTRALIA

This year has passed so quickly that it is hard for me to realize it's almost over. It seems only a few weeks ago that I first arrived in Mayville, and met the family and the people who I would get to know so well during the next ten months.

It has been a time of great change for me. Both Mayville and its school are as different from my home and school in Australia as one could imagine. To someone who has always lived on a farm, it is quite an experience to be actually within a town. And the Mayville high school is not at all similar to the private boarding school which I attend at home. These differences have made life so interesting, and have now become so much a part of me, that it will be very strange to return to my usual routine.

I can't find the words to express my thanks to the people of Mayville, to the kids who made me feel so welcome, and especially to my family, the Braces. Everyone has been so marvelous that the impression of America that I take home with me could not help but be favorable. I shall miss you all more than I can say, and I only hope that some day I will have a chance to repay, in my own country, some of the kindness and hospitality shown me in Mayville. Thank you all, very much.

CYPRUS

The school year is coming to an end. Everything has an end. A year full of experience. A year which has become a part of my life. Some day I will leave you. I will not see you any more. But all of you have already the first place in my heart.

It impressed me the way I became a real part of your school as well as your community, which must be proud that it has the name Mayville. When I am thinking that I leave Mayville, I really get hurt.

How can I forget the happy "Hi Panos" from the kids, the respect from my teachers, the smile of the beautiful girls of Mayville, the beautiful dances? Mayville has built a happy memory to my life.

Every AFSer has always to say good-bye, so all I have to do is thank all of you; the people of Mayville, my teachers, my special friends, and especially my parents, "Coutants", who gave to me all their love.

I will miss all of you. I will never forget that in the U S A , in the State of New York, lies a beautiful village named Mayville, with wonderful people. I am grateful to AFS and to all of you.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The seniors will depart and another class will take their place and another after that. The tree of life branches out and before our very eyes another generation begins; a generation that will have its joys and sorrows, trials and tribulations.

Our town is proud of its fine citizens of tomorrow. As we glance back to when they were toddlers, it is hard to believe they have grown up so rapidly. Remember when the doorbell would ring and we were besieged with the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts? Today, someone else, just as earnest, wearing their uniforms, stands at our door while their predecessors journey into the world, making their own homes.

Why do they have to grow up; why do they have to change; why does anyone grow old? A life is given to the world and a life is taken away. Well, folks, all I can say is enjoy life to the fullest and make every day worth living. The path is a steep and rocky one, but don't ever give up.

ACTIVITIES

The welfare of our future citizens is in the hands of the adults, parents, teachers and in the young people themselves. They need encouragement when the tide is low, and praise when praise is deserved for their efforts and accomplishments.

Our town is mighty proud of the fine people we have to lead them in the right direction, and a good share of these are the youngsters themselves, the youngsters that are part of the new generation.

The years of growing up are ones of "storm and stress," and the need for activity is ever increasing. To meet these demands the school displays an excelled program with organizations that provide activity and challenge for these people.

And with the combined efforts of all, Our Town is preparing the citizens of tomorrow for the road to adulthood and the roles they will play.

SPORTS

From the first time that we were youngsters in kindergarten, we have maintained a lively interest in the sporting activities of the school. Even though we didn't really understand why all those people were running around on the football field, or why the spectators were cheering so loudly at the basketball games, sports have always been one of our main interests at Mayville Central.

Now that we do know what it's all about, most of the Mayville students are active participants in one field or another. Basketball, football, baseball and track, the girls' and boys' intramurals program, tumbling, golfing, and bowling all are enjoyed by many the year round.

Physical fitness is essential for a healthy and happy individual. The program at Mayville Central gives ample opportunity for development along these lines, and we should be thankful that our school offers us such a fine one.

ADVERTISING

It's funny we never realize all the merchants who serve us every day of our lives, both in Our Town and in the surrounding areas. As the years go by, perhaps the people who have left will remember the Cokes after school, the excitement of a basketball game, the parties, dances, and all the friendly merchants who knew them by name.

The Yearbook Staff extends to all its subscribers and to everyone who made PACEMAKER 1964 possible, its sincere thanks and gratitude for the aid and co-operation that was most beneficial.

Now it is time to say good-by, good-by to all the wonderful people in Our Town and a special good-by to the Seniors, to whom we give luck and best wishes for a wonderful future. We hope you have enjoyed our Town and its people as much as we have enjoyed presenting them to you.

Good-night folks, and come again soon.
